

FINISHING TOUCHES

Details matter when it comes to designing a room

Picking the main components for a room is always important—but adding the right pieces to finish a space is also essential. From attractive window treatments to decorative molding, the smaller decisions give your home personality. “These are the things that create comfort,” says interior designer Katie Anderson, owner of Katie Anderson Design Consultants of San Francisco. “It’s more inviting to come into a room that looks lived in.” Something as simple as an area rug can make a huge difference in a room. “Adding a rug softens sound, adds color, creates a focal point, and makes a room feel complete,” explains Anderson. Whatever you choose, just remember to create a space that reflects your personal style.

TERRIFIC TRIM: A quick and easy way to add elegance to any room, LP wood veneer moldings allow you to transform a master bedroom into something special. Their Crystal White collection (shown here) comes prefinished in white and ready to install. LP Corporation; www.lpcorp.com/moulding.
